Project Title	Amplify the Work of Adolescent Health
Project Summary	The Office of the Assistant Secretary for Health (OASH) in partnership with the Office for Adolescent Health (OAH) is looking to support teen health initiatives by hosting a series of webinars, creating resources around teen health and marketing OAH's Think, Act, and Grow Playbook.
Country	United States

Project Description

Each year, we celebrate Teen Health Week in the Spring and during this time, students/teens work on activities to encourage other teens to prioritize to their health. Each day has a different focus area which includes topics such as mental health, nutrition and physical education, reproductive health, oral health, etc. Our team would like to create a multi- part webinar series focusing on different issues as well as resources for use by students in schools to use in order to plan their own week of activities. We are asking for assistance with the creation of the webinar, which includes identifying topics, finding subject matter experts/speakers, running/facilitating the webinar platform and developing/conducting an evaluation.

Another area where our team is looking for support is around the Office of Adolescent Health's Think, Act, Grow Playbook. The regional offices are looking for ways to better support the work being developed out of OAH.

Additional Information

In order to support the Office of Adolescent Health there are regional offices working on Adolescent Health related projects, so this opportunity would include working closely with several regional offices. We value the idea of teamwork, so would appreciate having 2 interns who can work collaboratively on these efforts and help us identify other possible areas of interest related to adolescent health and well-being. The regional adolescent health points of contacts would serve in the “supervisory” role for this opportunity and we are seeking students who are go-getters and have an interest in supporting and promoting adolescent health. We believe having a strong interest in public health, health communication, education, and marketing would be helpful in this opportunity as well.
